Four Thousand People Hear N. W. Rowell in Massey Hall.

HE EXPLORES THE LIBERAL PLATFORM

Shows the Injury That Results From Opposition Being Small

Toronto, Nov. 14.—N. W. Rowell, K.C., opened his provincial campaign and his career as leader of the Liberal party at a mass meeting in Massey Hall tonight before four thousand people. The chair was occupied by Hon. W. L. Mackenzie-King, president of the Ontario Reform Association. Mr. Rowell's address was in the main a call of duty, he was presented last week. He declared that the Liberal policy at that question was a thorough British education for every child in the province, while not denying the use of their own tongue in French Canadian children, short of any delivered also by Dr. J. M. Macdonald, president of the Ontario Reform Association.

Mr. Rowell opened his address by acknowledging the enthusiastic welcome given him by the gathering which he accepted as evidence of an increasing interest in Ontario's social and industrial problems. After paying a tribute to the late leader, Hon. A. G. MacKay, he declared that he had not aspired to the leadership but that having regarded it as a call of duty, he was prepared to devote his best energies to it.

Mr. Rowell claimed that Sir James Whitney had failed to explain why the Liberal party was in power. "The tendency of every government which has held it in an overwhelming majority," said Mr. Rowell, "is to become complacent, overbearing, and indifferent to the rights of the minority. Let the electors return me a strong body and I will be able to fairly investigate and criticize the actions of government and force progressive legislation upon its consideration."

New Ontario Development. Mr. Rowell then took up the question of development of New Ontario, which comprises four-fifths of the entire province. "What is the situation today?" he asked. "Ninety-four per cent of the population of New Ontario is in the cities. They are interested in selling their products. They advertise their products in the newspapers. They naturally go West. The railways of the province are interested in the West."

Mr. Rowell said the Liberal party proposed to create a department of Immigration and Colonization, to Cabinet minister at its head, and to the Northern Ontario Development Commission. "In short," he said, "the Liberal Government will make it its business to encourage immigration, thereby contributing more directly to the Ontario's prosperity than has the government of Western Canada."

Boundary Extension. "The great difficulty in the Province is still being administered by the Dominion government," said Mr. Rowell, "has not been decided in the provinces of Ontario and Manitoba. The boundary of the Province of Ontario must be extended in the near future and it is our duty to see that the Province of Ontario should have a fair share of the land."

Mr. Rowell said the Liberal party proposed to create a department of Immigration and Colonization, to Cabinet minister at its head, and to the Northern Ontario Development Commission.

Perhaps if fewer millions were squandered on bunnies and more spent on sanitation, India would be a healthier and therefore a more contented country.

Wu Ting Fung, formerly Chinese Minister to the United States, has wired the Chinese agent that he had better abdicate. We gained a reputation for success during his residence in the United States. He sustains it by sending in this bit of telegram instead of delivering it in person.

Those in Edmonton who have been complaining about the early onset of cold weather would do well to read attentively the dispatches telling of what is going on in the far north in the Central States. We at least have seen spared the blizzards, with its aftermath of death and destruction.

Toronto has a regulation which forbids a motor car passing a street car at a red light. This is a very good regulation in Edmonton. If such regulation is in the minds of some drivers that they are not going to a motor car to follow a street car at a short distance, just near, but not to endanger anyone's life, it is out into the street to catch the car or who attempt to alight from it.

The Journal is authority for its statement that a bill for the amendment of the Criminal Code, which will make it a crime to drive a motor car without a license, is in the hands of the House of Commons. The bill is in the hands of the House of Commons. The bill is in the hands of the House of Commons.

The course of the German fleet, which has been displaced everywhere, but the Emperor and the Chancellor, are not to be reckoned upon for much certainty. Unfortunately it is the hands of the Emperor and the Chancellor, are not to be reckoned upon for much certainty.

At a gathering of the British Empire, Sir Gilbert Parker made a full resolution that Premier Horden be constrained to the decision of the Canadian people to "maintain intact the historic nation," whatever he may be made to say. Sir Gilbert Parker is one of the Canadians whom the Canadian people for the sake of their children should have been well advised to keep at home.

A man born in this Dominion should be made to say that the Canadian people for the sake of their children should have been well advised to keep at home.

PRES. GOMPERS
ANNUAL REPORT

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 15.—President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, in his report submitted today to the delegates of the 11th annual convention, predicted great changes in American methods of government, particularly with regard to political parties. He gave the referendum, initiative and recall the unequalled endorsement of organized labor and declared that a real, representative democracy had never been known in the United States because of the abuse of these provisions.

"This semi-deflection of judges," he said in defense of his endorsement, "the substitution of cant about 'good rule,' some of which was in President Taft's message, voting the Arizona statehood bill, is more direct."

President Gompers' report, which covers sixty closely printed pages and would make more than 10 columns in a newspaper, says it leaves many subjects untouched or inadequately presented.

In the main, the report declares for, and says the following are organized labor demands:

The referendum, the initiative and the recall.

Passage of the so-called anti-union bills at the next session of Congress.

Restraint of immigration.

Further restriction of convict labor.

Legislation to relieve civil service employees from the executive orders prohibiting them to petition Congress.

Uniform laws for protection of life and health in factory buildings.

The department of labor in the Federal government.

Employers' liability and workmen's compensation acts throughout the States.

Severe arraignment is made of so-called scientific management or efficiency systems.

With its membership now more than 1,000,000, the greatest in its history, and its financial condition excellent, the organization often called the greatest labor institution of the times enters the thirty-first year of its work.

"Despite all opposition of the most virulent kind the American labor movement grows and thrives; its beneficent influence for the common good of labor and of all our people extends to all fields of useful activity and is becoming more generally recognized. The power which labor holds within its grasp is understood by our opponents perhaps better than many of the laborers. The fact is that labor's opponents, like the Tories of the past, many of whom are still with us, are afraid to try the people."

"With power in the hands of labor and of the people generally, comes a quickening sense of responsibility. And though errors are liable to occur they bring experience, and an avoidance of recurrence. The errors or encroachments of the few or of an entire epoch, those to be avoided, are rectified only by the people's revolt. How perfectly safe freedom is, is a truth not yet fully understood."

The McNamara case, however, is said to be a warning.

"Labor's contention of many years has become merged, or have rather conformed with those of the progressive of all parties. The people as a whole, irrespective of class, condition, faith or political alignment have declared for freedom in fact, and not merely in name. They are taking affairs political into their own hands. They will no longer tolerate the sale of legislation to the highest bidder or the granting of franchises to the richest bribe giver. Under the coming regime, assuredly there are to be no more court decrees entered as prepared in advance and ordered by the attorney for the stronger party—stronger politically or financially."

"In the face of the political and social machine, we shall have leadership of intelligence, pleading for public justice, with adherence proportioned in number to the strength of the arguments. The stuffed ballot-box, the false count, and the perjured election returns will likewise disappear. With these opportunities, with those stimulating ingredients to free thought and action, the cause of public justice will be advanced in all directions. Labor, acting from the point of enlightened self-interest, and yet with a full sense of responsibility respecting the just rights of all others in society, will manifestly and patriotically meet its editorial responsibilities."

"Under the prevailing system of call and dried platforms and stated nominations preceded by fake primaries, the ballot in our hands has not been, in any adequate sense, either a protecting shield against wrong or a means of redress. We may not for some time be entirely rid of the rule of parties. If they be an evil, they are such as are incident to all governments based on popular suffrage. I deem it unwise, or rather impolitic, to waste our energies now in efforts to abolish the political party system. Perhaps they are institutional in all free government, but if we can not now destroy them, we may, by more astute and regular exercise of our power to choose our political leaders, do much in the way of controlling them."

Under existing conditions, we must obtain various measures of legislation at the hands of dominant parties in legislative bodies, and if party affairs are to remain in the hands of corrupt agents and corrupt bosses as heretofore, then our interests will be imperilled and the desired relief rendered, matter which party has the majority."

Mr. Gompers refers very briefly to the contents of court proceedings against Vice-President John Mitchell, Secretary McPherson, and himself, which are still pending before the courts in the district of Columbia.

The McNamara case, however, is taken up at some length and fully reviewed. Mr. Gompers expresses his faith in the innocence of the men now on trial at Los Angeles for alleged dynamiting of bridges and denounces in unmeasured terms their removal from Indiana to California.

The Wilson bill, now pending in Congress, a so-called anti-union measure, which has the support of labor, is warmly endorsed, and President Gompers calls upon all organized labor to work for its early passage. Mr. Gompers expresses the belief that by united action the Wilson bill may be passed at the next session, and he expressed the opinion that even should it be vetoed by President Taft a great victory would be partly won. He declared labor could expect little voluntary help from the President on the anti-union legislation.

To the subject of immigration, much of the report is addressed. Plans are proposed for bringing the migratory laborer into the ranks of organized labor. Further restriction of immigration is justified necessary and schemes of distribution of immigrants are discussed.

"Turn which we may, the fact invariably confronts us, in our endeavor to ameliorate the lot of the laborers now in America, that there must be a restriction of immigration. Restriction, as recommended by the United States immigration commission is, if not the first step toward organizing migratory laborers, at least a necessary step. There are sufficient workers on the Pacific coast at the present time, were they shifting about intelligently reorganized to perform all the pressing work there throughout all the seasons of the year. The main trouble has been that the employers have not paid any adequate attention to the laborer as a social entity except at the moment when they are in the bind. Society has not concerned itself seriously about the social workers."

The early completion of the Panama canal, however, will, without doubt, cause a still change in the labor situation of the Pacific coast, both internally and with relation to other countries. It has already been calculated that immigrants from Europe will be halved via the Panama canal at Pacific coast ports for a less time than is required to pay the passage to inland points in states of the middle west. It is to be remembered that the enormous fleets of foreign vessels which are in the immigration trade are seeking business the world over.

In a single year, aided by the climate, the present transatlantic fleet could carry 500,000 wage-workers from the coast ports, while also transporting the average yearly number to the Atlantic coast ports. This is more than probable forthcoming condition to be faced by our fellow trade unionists of Washington, Oregon and California."

In the Federation's fight for employers' liability and Workmen's Compensation laws, progressive legislation is reported. From the States of Massachusetts, New Jersey, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, California, Florida, Illinois, Kansas, Vermont, Washington and Wisconsin. The work has been hearing exceptions for Federal laws, is highly commended and it is expected that some report will be made to the coming Congress.

The work of the United States bureau of mines is establishing mine rescue stations through the coal regions and the stupor of education which the bureau has been carrying on, among miners, is warmly commended. The report expresses the bill introduced at the last Congress by Representative Butler, of New York, creating a department of labor in the Federal government.

In an appeal for better laws to protect life and health in factory buildings, President Gompers refers to the fire in the Triangle shirt waist company's building in New York last April, in which 145 girls lost their lives.

Federation's organizers. Each is treated briefly, reporting progress, but without any recommendation other than those hitherto expressed. The membership of the organization was never so great. According to Secretary Morrison's report, its financial condition is excellent. The treasury shows a balance of nearly $200,000 on hand. Nearly $2,000,000 was disbursed in support of strikes by the various unions which are affiliated with the Federation. During 1911, the Federation issued 275 circulars to unions, bringing the total of its circulation membership to 1,445. In individual membership the Federation gained nearly 240,000 during the year.

"The American Federation of labor, through its affiliated organizations, has today the largest membership in its history," said President Gompers in conclusion. "Its standing is sound and prospects are bright. In its long drawn-out legal contests there is more reason than ever to assume that labor's cause will win. In a number of important strikes during the year we have had gains, and there has been a tendency to continue the shortening of the work day, to do away with child labor and to animate the unorganized masses with a desire to take part in the great labor movement."

"The movement has no scheme within. All application to its policies, its procedures, its form, of organization, and its tactics, come from within. All who would divert it from its established principles are enemies, working for the promotion of institutions foreign to its character. Those who would change it aim at its disintegration."

"This is, first, whether the antagonist in view is the college president who believes in the right of the non-unionist to work below the union scale alongside of the unionist; or the philanthropist who believes unions should be more benevolent societies; or the editor who believes that the unionist should be always in his party and a supporter of his interests; or the politician who demands that the unionist must always vote his ticket."

THE FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL MARKETS

EDMONTON, CITY MARKET.

Edmonton, Nov. 15.—The local market is at a standstill so far as prices are concerned. While grain quotations are not any weaker than they were several days ago, these seem to be little, if any, inclination to get on the bull side of the market, and the farmers are still watching the situation with more or less concern. The crop is the best in the history of agricultural development in Central Alberta and the market price means much to tillers of the soil.

The present cold snap is retarding the movement of vegetables to the city. Farmers and gardeners are busy preparing for the winter to bring in their surplus of potatoes and other vegetables. The local market is, however, fairly well supplied at present, with no immediate prospect of a shortage.

POTATOES, STILL LOW AT 25 CENTS A BUSHEL, BUT IN ALL PROBABILITY WILL BE AT A HIGHER FIGURE IN THE NEAR FUTURE.

CHINESE CAPITALIST HERE
A branch of the Occidental and Oriental Trust Company of Vancouver, B.C., may be established at Edmonton. Paul H. Jones, president of that financial institution, is in the city, making the ground with a view of getting a branch in the city. He will spend several days here before returning to the coast.

This is Mr. Jones' first visit to Edmonton, and a Bulletin representative this morning he expressed considerable surprise at the magnitude of business activity here. He has been in portions of Alberta before, but with what he has seen in the last week is thoroughly convinced that this district has a splendid future. Mr. Jones is impressed with the idea that the field is an especially inviting one for investment. As evidence of his faith in the country he is about to close a deal for a large tract of land near Edmonton.

While Mr. Jones resides in a warm climate, he is no tenderfoot, and after his arrival the other day, he started out for a trip to the north, accompanied by J. J. Raby, with whom he is identified in business enterprises. They got as far as Athabasca Landing, returning from there last night. Mr. Jones said the country is a little chilly, but he did not mind the haphazard-mile ride.

He has resided in San Francisco, but now makes his home in Vancouver, where the headquarters of the Occidental and Oriental Trust Company are maintained. Hancock, of Calgary, notified his commissioners yesterday that he intended to claim damages. He stated that on Monday, November 13, he went to Red Deer in search of the missing members of his family, only to find that they had left for Edmonton. He was accompanied by his wife and child, and the police, secured a warrant for their arrest in Red Deer and advised the police here to hold them until his arrival. Upon receiving Edmonton he found that they had made their escape. He therefore advised the commissioners that he would demand compensation for the loss of his family. The commissioners refused the compensation, and he is now suing the city.

A letter was received from the City of Edmonton, Light, Heat & Power Co., offering for sale the city's electric power, at a daily capacity of 60,000 kilowatts. The plant has been in use for three years. It will be sold to a city engineer that the city will not purchase a plant at a second price.

Regarding the application of the Great Northern Railway Co. for permission to establish a plant in the district, the commissioners, for the extension of the line to the site of the plant, Superintendent McKenna stated that the estimated cost of the extension would be approximately $100,000. The company will use not less than 1,000 axons daily.

NEVER VOTERS LIVE TODAY

Persons whose names do not appear on the voters' list, and who, having reason to believe that they are qualified, desire to appeal to the court of revision, must notify the city assessor of their intention before 2 p.m. today. At that hour the city assessor will meet in the City Hall for the purpose of considering such appeals. Up to the present time only twenty appeals have been recorded, but it is expected that the number will be considerably increased today. Comparatively few tenants are appealing.

NORTHERN RAILWAY DEVELOPMENT BIG FEATURE OF SESSION

Premier Balfour will open the Appellate Comprehensive Policy - Issue Withheld Till House Meets - Session of Legislature Not Expected to end Before Christmas.

It is announced by Premier Balfour that the government will have an ample and well defined policy for the northern railway construction in regard to the House when it meets. The details of the policy will not be divulged until then, but the general scheme is to provide for the opening up of the north by the building of a great line at the present time, of the resources of the undeveloped north country. The development is one of the principal subjects which will be brought forward for consideration by the government at the approaching session of the legislative assembly. And there is no doubt but that the historical of Edmonton will receive its due.

DURATION OF SESSION

Premier Balfour stated yesterday that there was not a great deal of legislation to be introduced before the coming session of the House. The acts that were to be presented were being carefully prepared by the law officers of the assembly which will be transacted with all possible dispatch. If, however, the work of the session could be finished without adjournment, the session would adjourn at the end of Christmas in order to finish up.

If this rapid progress was not made, the adjournment would be some days earlier and the House would sit again on a short recess early in the new year.
